Transgender Beyond Disorder: Identity, Community, and Health

September 24–28, 2011

Emory Conference Center, Atlanta, Georgia
1615 Clifton Road Northeast, Atlanta, GA

WPATH will hold its 2011 Biennial Symposium in conjunction with the Southern Comfort Conference, the largest transgender community conference in the U.S., and the Gay and Lesbian Medical Association's Annual Conference.

University of Minnesota Continuing Education Units (CEUs) will be offered for the WPATH Symposium for a small fee.

The CEU is an internationally recognized unit of measurement for participation in noncredit, continuing education programs. Adults who participate in University of Minnesota programs that award CEUs will have a permanent university record of the CEUs they have received through such participation.

September, 2011

Dear WPATH friends,

Welcome to the 2011 WPATH Biennial Symposium “Transgender Beyond Disorder: Identity, Community, and Health”! We are thrilled that you were able to join us for this very special meeting. Our conference kicks off with a pre-conference meeting for transgender healthcare providers on Saturday, September 24 at the Emory Conference Center hotel. A new feature of the conference is a surgeons’ only meeting also being held on Saturday, September 24. This meeting will allow surgeons from around the world to spend time together discussing refinements in gender affirming surgeries. At 4.30 pm on Saturday afternoon, WPATH will open its doors to locals of the Olympic City of Atlanta for a special plenary session on “Transgender People in Sports”; please join us for that occasion!

For the first time in the history of the symposium, we will be hosting a joint conference day with two other associations on Sunday, September 25. The Southern Comfort Conference (SCC) (one of the largest continuously ongoing annual conventions for the trans community in the U.S.) and the Gay and Lesbian Medical Association (GLMA) will be holding their annual conferences immediately prior to our biennial meeting and will join us at the Emory Conference Center Hotel on Sunday, September 25 for a joint symposium day. The new WPATH Standards of Care will be released at the end of that day. The meeting will conclude with a hearty welcome reception, scientific poster presentations, and a late night bowling party at the Emory Conference Center Hotel.

From Monday to Wednesday, the scientific program will continue with several mini-symposia and plenary lectures. There will be a special Emory welcome hosted by Emory LGBT Life and the Emory School of Public Health at the end of the day on Monday on the Emory University campus. On Tuesday night, the WPATH Gala will be held at the Fernbank Museum of Natural History. Enjoy a cocktail hour in the front of the museum catching up with colleagues followed by a delicious traditional Southern style dinner catered by one of the best chefs in Atlanta. After dinner, enjoy exhibits and dancing. You do not want to miss this spectacular event!

The symposium concludes on Wednesday with a look ahead to the 2014 symposium in Bangkok, Thailand. We hope that you have a very educational, enjoyable and inspiring meeting. Welcome again to Atlanta!

Sincerely,

Vin Tangpricha, M.D., Ph.D.

WPATH 2011 Biennial International Symposium

Transgender Beyond Disorder: Identity, Community, and Health

September 24–28, 2011

Emory Conference Center, Atlanta, Georgia
1615 Clifton Road Northeast, Atlanta, GA

WPATH will hold its 2011 Biennial Symposium in conjunction with the Southern Comfort Conference, the largest transgender community conference in the U.S., and the Gay and Lesbian Medical Association's Annual Conference.

University of Minnesota Continuing Education Units (CEUs) will be offered for the WPATH Symposium for a small fee.

The CEU is an internationally recognized unit of measurement for participation in noncredit, continuing education programs. Adults who participate in University of Minnesota programs that award CEUs will have a permanent university record of the CEUs they have received through such participation.
